WHAT HAPPENED TO THE DOORKNOBS?

When selling your home, make sure you know what belongs to the house and what you can take. Generally, if something is connected to the wall, floor or ceiling, it's considered a "fixture" and stays, unless specifically stated otherwise in the sales contract. If you want to take something with you, say antique hardware or a chandelier - or even a doorknob - it's best to replace it before you put the home on the market.

CARDS OF THANKS

Thank you to the Ellsworth, Adrian and Luverne Fire Departments for responding to our house fire. Thank you to the community for their support in our time of need. God Bless you all.

The Evers Family. (3.26 - 3.30)

We would like to thank the many family, friends, doctors, and nurses for the fantastic care, visits, cards and most of all prayers during my open heart/double bypass surgery. If it wasn't for all of you, this healing process would have been very difficult. A special thank you to Rick Tatge for the snow removal at our home while I was in the hospital.

> LeRoy Schroeder and family (3.26 - 3.30)

Thank you for remembering me on my 85th Birthday. I had a very nice day.

Dolores Dreesen (3.26 - 3.30)

A special thank you to MinnWest Bank for packaging the bags for February.

Manitou restoration done

After 25 years, Bill and Nancy Frakes have completed their restoration of four levels - five if you count the roof - of the historic Manitou Hotel in Luverne. The project is a fascinating story of a Luverne icon returned to its once a grandios condition. Along the way, the work incorporated hundreds of pieces of other salvaged local history. Pick up this week's Star Herald for a special section detailing the Manitou rescue.
